The Studio 54 Table Lamp is an eclectic choice creating an interesting talking point yet seamlessly finding the perfect spot in your home. DOMO has a wide range of lighting that creates the perfect balance of form and function. The right lighting can transform any space, bringing luminosity and ambience to indoor and outdoor settings. Good lighting, in a home or business, is one of those things that's invisible, particularly if it's done well. You only notice the lighting of a room if it's too bright or too dim. The DOMO Lighting Collection offers a wide range of quality lights that are perfectly suited to a contemporary, urban lifestyle and modest budget. Every year we visit various trade fairs around the world to search for furniture and accessories that support this concept. A product is priced at an "entry level" with a choice between simple or elaborate when it comes to design, allowing your choice to work with your setting. Finish: Polished Brass
