

GRU

Christophe Delcourt

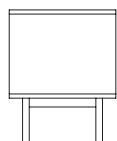

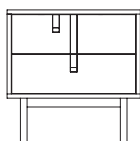

GRU bedside table applies the concept of rhythm to furniture design and breaks through the boring and repetitive appearance. Each 'note' is at the perfect handle height. The designer presents this concept in a clear, user-friendly way, which makes GRU the perfect combination of function and form.

STRUCTURE

Whole piece in solid wood and veneer on particles board, handles and base in metal

FINISHING

Structure in natural walnut or stained oak, handles and base in dark green lacquered metal
